

QUAKERS STIRRED OVER SCANDALS

Report on Filtration Alarms Politicians.

MACHINE MAKES BLUNDERS

Arrests Likely to Follow the Election—Reformers Are Confident.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Public indignation is intense over the exposure by the Gillette-Maclean report of a $5,000,000 graft in the filtration contracts for Israel W. Durham and James P. McNichol. The contractors were both silent and loud in their denials. Major Gillette declared every word in the report to be founded on fact.

Everywhere in the city the Machine is demoralized as a result of the startling disclosures of the looting of the treasury by the politicians. They are charged by the engineers with exacting from the taxpayers a profit of 82 per cent on work done on the filtration plant and the boulevards.

Senator Penrose, Durham, McNichol, and John W. Hill, the filtration engineer now under indictment, held extended conferences. Durham made no attempt at explaining his part in the conspiracy. McNichol entered into a general denial of the charges of the expert engineers.

Driven to frenzy by the startling story of graft, condemning the contractors at the bar of public opinion, the Machine resorted to full-page advertisements in the newspapers to offset the charges.

An affidavit signed by Vollum, Fernley & Vollum, auditors, shows that McNichol received but 8.53 per cent profit on the filtration contracts, "completed and settled," and that the entire sum received by McNichol for these contracts amounted to a little over $4,000,000. This deception was at once exposed by former Judge James Gay Gordon, counsel for Mayor Weaver. He declared that the records show that there are seven additional contracts held by McNichol, calling for over $10,000,000, and on which $7,000,000 has been paid, but to which no reference is made in the report of the accountants.

Machine Makes Blunders.

Each day furnishes some new blunder by the Machine, and Felix Isman has brought suit against Rudolph Blankenburg, the popular candidate for city commissioner on the City party ticket, because he would not retract after charging that political influence depriving the city of $300,000 annually in taxes on the old Mint site.

Mr. Blankenburg anticipated the move and surrendered himself to Magistrate Eisenbrow. There, to the disappointment of the Machine leaders, Martin Blakey, prominent in Catholic circles in the country, went on. Mr. Blankenburg's bond for $800. Refusing to retract or apologize in any form, Mr. Blankenburg fearlessly challenged Mr. Isman to meet him in court.

Arrests After Election.

Arrests are to follow the engineers' report. According to former Judge James Gay Gordon, counsel for the mayor, every guilty person is to be brought to the bar of justice. Last the serving of warrants at this time be misinterpreted and misunderstood the men suspected will not be arrested until after the election on Tuesday next.

Reformer Confident.

Every ward in the city was represented at the regular meeting of the City party city committee. Chairman Edmunds said:

"The report we received today justify the claim of a majority for the candidates of the City party. We are also of the opinion now that every ward in the city is a fair fighting ground for us."

Campaign Nears End.

Mayor Weaver opened the last week of the campaign last night at the most superlatively enthusiastic City party ward gathering which has yet been held. It was held in Odd Fellows Hall.

The wards represented were the Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth, two of which had heretofore been under the complete domination of two of the city's bosses, Israel W. Durham and "Jim" McNichol.

A Representative Crowd.

The gathering was splendidly representative. There were citizens present whose voices count for much in the lines of the community, and these let it be known in no uncertain terms that all of their influence is being lent to the furtherance of the reform movement.

GUN FACTORY ELEVEN TO PLAY ENGINEERS

The Naval Gun Factory team will line up against the strong Second Battalion of Engineers tomorrow at 4 p. m., in Navy Yard. No admission will be charged.

After the Gallaudet game the management made a through canvass of the shops for new and heavier navy material. It was successful, finding Shepard, a 166-pound guard, who played with U. of N. C., also Symonds, of the All-Navy team of 1901. Sutton, coach of Gallaudet, will play end; J. Kim, of the Olympia, will be at one of the halves. The team average has been increased from 150 to 170 pounds.

HEBREWS TO OBSERVE BIRTHDAY OF LANDING

Plan Elaborate Services in Synagogues Open to All Faiths on Thanksgiving Day, 250th Anniversary—Private Celebrations in Washington Homes.

Active preparations for the celebration, on Thanksgiving Day of the 250th anniversary of the landing of Hebrews in the United States are being made by the committee in charge of arrangements, composed of three prominent Hebrews of the business and social interests of the city. Simon Wolf, former consul general to Cairo, Egypt; Col. C. H. Lauchheimer, commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps headquarters, and A. S. Solomon, for many years a local merchant.

The committee met at the synagogue, Eighth between H and I streets, last Sunday morning, and planned an elaborate celebration. The celebration will be in the nature of open services in the Hebrew churches throughout the city. Gentiles will be welcomed.

The service at this synagogue is expected to have the largest attendance, as the seating capacity is larger than in any other church of the faith in the city. In addition to the regular Thanksgiving services, the Rev. Aaron Sussman will probably deliver a historical sketch of the Hebrew people since the first landing in this country in 1655.

The celebration will continue in the homes of the Hebrews of the city.

BRITT SEEKS MATCH WITH TERRIBLE ONE

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Now Britt wants a whack at Terry McGovern. Billy Roach, formerly of this city, representing matchmaker Coffroth, of San Francisco, is awaiting to New York from Louisville, empowered to offer, for a bout between Britt and Terry during November or December, a purse of $12,000 or 50 per cent of the gross receipts.

Coffroth claims to have the permits necessary to pull the bout off in Frisco, but is holding out Colma as a second choice for the site of the proposed battle.

Joe Humphrey, Terry's manager, has decided, however, not to accept Coffroth's offer, no matter how flattering, as he has determined that Battling Nelson must be McGovern's first opponent. The articles for this fight are probably on the way here now.

WILL WARN PRESIDENT AGAINST RAILROADS

Committee From Interstate Commerce
Convention Will Tell of Strong Anti-Rate Legislation.

A committee from the "regular" Interstate Commerce Law Convention held in Chicago last week is scheduled to call on the President tomorrow to explain to him in detail how the railroads attempted to capture the convention.

The committee is coming to "warn" the Chief Executive against the organization the railroads have formed for the purpose of defeating railroad rate legislation.

An effort will be made to convince the President that David M. Parry, president of the National Manufacturers' Association, is an "anti" who ought to be watched. It is asserted that in this capacity he organized the opposition to the Chicago convention, and it is asserted that he has other plans for interfering with the President's program.

"Put the White House search-light on Parry," is the request of tomorrow's callers.

TYPOS VOTE FUND FOR EIGHT-HOUR FIGHT

Columbia Typographical Union voted on the proposition for an assessment of 50 cents a week yesterday to carry on the contest for the eight-hour workday. The local union has a membership of about 2,000, and less than 400 voted against the movement.

The International Typographical Union, through the executive council, referred the project to the referendum a week ago, and everywhere that a ballot has been taken, the majority has favored the assessment.

The Government Printing Office polled a large vote in favor of the measure, while the newspaper offices were practically unanimous.

CURZON IS PROSTRATED WITH FEVER IN INDIA

LAHORE, India, Oct. 31.—Lord Curzon, the retiring viceroy of India, who has been making a farewell tour of India, has been prostrated here with fever. The attack was brought on by his exposure to the sun.

TEETH SAVED LIFE.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 31.—Patrick Noone, of Mohawk street, owes his life to a set of good teeth. William Hoban fired at him with a revolver. The bullet struck Noone in the mouth, and was flattened against his teeth.

REPUBLICANS ACCUSE NORFOLK NAVY FOREMAN

Naval Officers Investigate Charges of Discrimination in Hiring Against Ship Joiner Volk.

PORTSMOUTH, Va., Oct. 31.—A board of investigation, composed of Capt. Albion V. Wadhams, executive officer of the Norfolk navy yard; Lieut. Commander George Camp, aide to Rear Admiral Harrington, commandant; and Naval Constructor Lawrence S. Adams, conducted an investigation of the charges preferred against L. B. Volk, foreman of ship joiners in the construction and repair department of the Norfolk navy yard, yesterday.

The charges were preferred by the Republican executive committee of Norfolk and Portsmouth. They alleged discrimination in the employment of labor in the construction and repair department by Volk.

The report of the investigating committee has been forwarded to the Secretary of the Navy at Washington.

HACKENSCHMIDT WILL WRESTLE THE TURK

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Hackenschmidt and Ahmed Madrali, another "terrible Turk," will wrestle in London early in December. Hackenschmidt, by reason of his defeat of Monroe, the British champion, Saturday night is now the world's champion. The Turk gained a great deal of prestige when he threw Tom Jenkins, and it is due to this that the public demand has forced Hackenschmidt to grant him a return match. Jenkins, who was in New York recently, said that Hackenschmidt could tie the Oriental in a true lovers' knot with ease. When they met before, the Russian broke his opponent's arm.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS MUCH IN DEMAND

Accidents and Fright Lead to Submission of Large Number of Resignations.

Because of the hazardous character of the work, and incidentally the poor pay, the Postoffice Department just now seems to be experiencing some difficulty in keeping at work a full quota of railway mail clerks.

There is more demand on the Civil Service Commission for eligibles for railway mail clerks than any other branch of the postal service.

For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1905, 1,401 railway mail clerks were appointed through the medium of the civil service. Nearly one-third of these appointments were made to fill vacancies caused by resignations.

Whenever an accident happens and one or more postal clerks are killed, or maimed for life, it frightens the newly appointed civil service railway postal clerks, and a number of resignations follow. Of late the resignations of postal clerks have averaged about thirty-five per month.

The Civil Service Commission does not experience any difficulty in supplying eligibles from nearby States, but for the service in Nevada, New Mexico, New Mexico, Idaho, Arizona, Mississippi, and Montana, the commission frequently has to hold special examinations to fill vacancies.

There are any number of applicants trying to break into the railway postal service, but they tire of the hard work within two or three weeks and get out. An increase in pay and steel cars, it is believed, will check this crippling of the service and increase its efficiency. This resignation fever among the railway postal clerks is annoying the department officials not a little.
